About our Aluminium Tool Box

Your full-size pickup vehicle may be organised securely and weatherproofly with the Ampacto heavy duty truck toolboxes. On the street and at the job site, Ampacto chest designs draw attention. Available in polished aluminium and matte black powder coat aluminium.

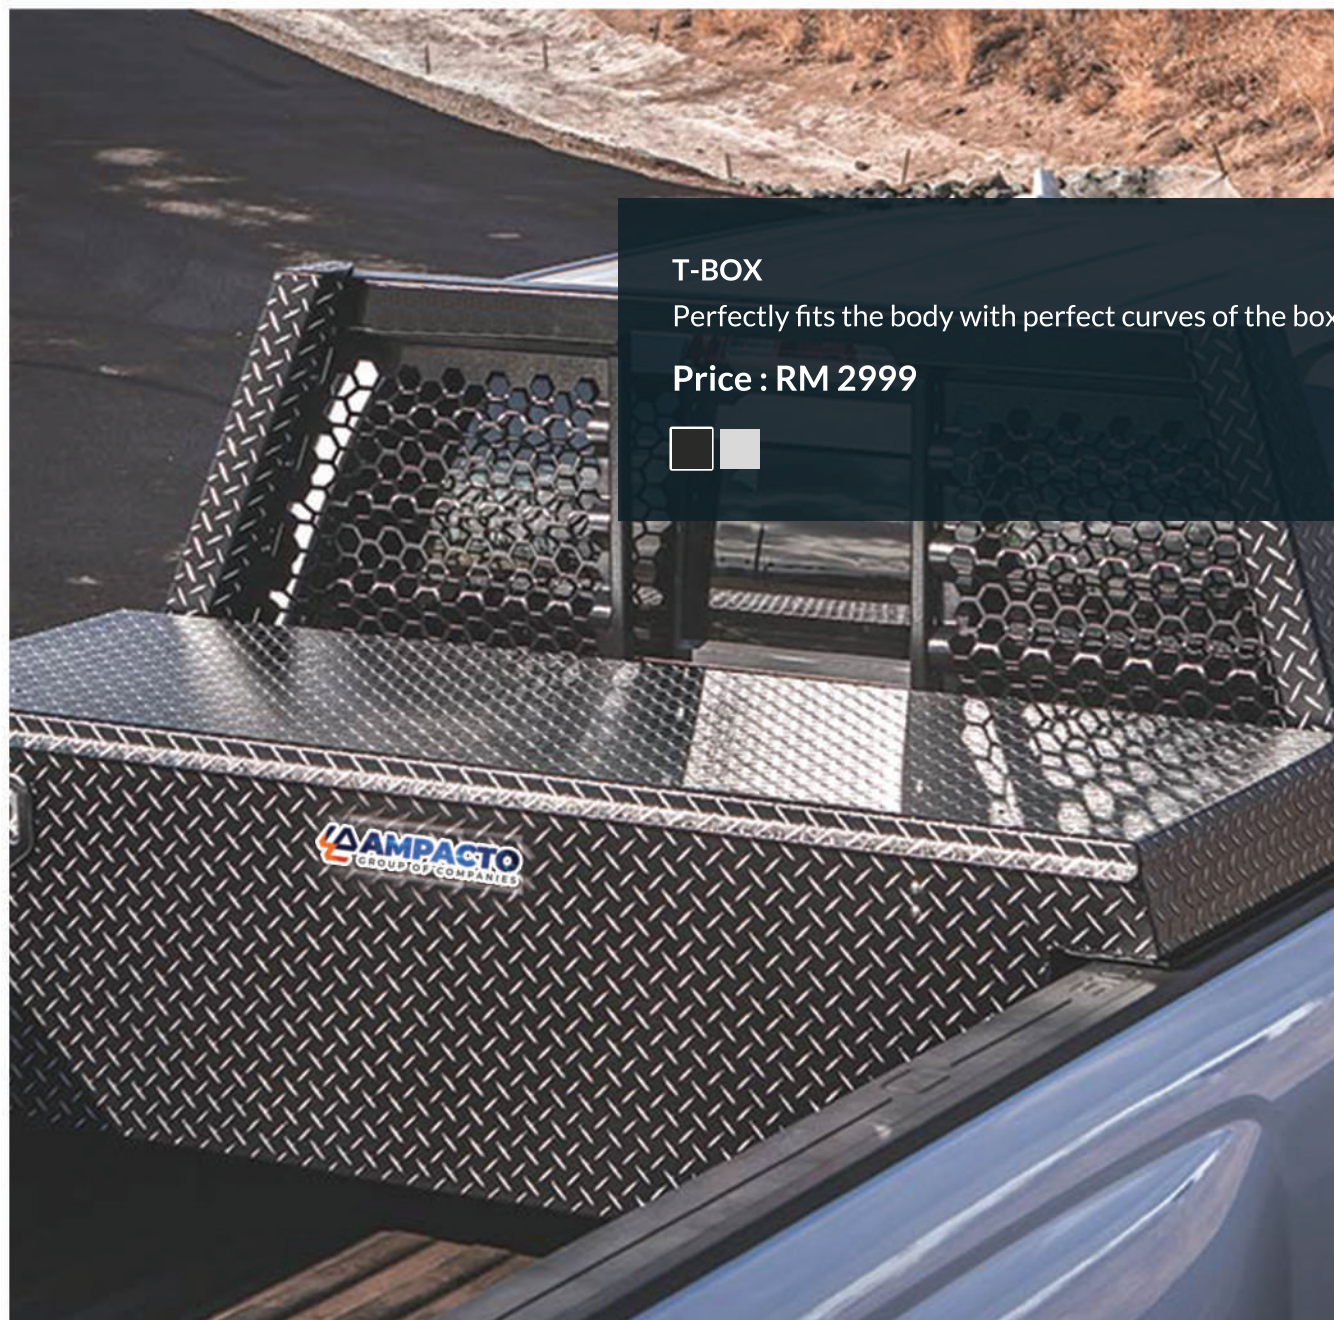

Maximum bed capacity and rear window visibility are made possible with the high quality Saddle Style Toolbox. Increase the amount of storage space and weather protection while keeping the rear window clear. The toolbox maximises bed space while providing safe, convenient storage for truck bed rails. The unique Ampacto Technology design keeps your gear dry and safe. Available with options for polished aluminium or matte black finishes, including both single and double door configurations.

Your tools and equipment are protected from the elements and break-ins by the Ampacto Aluminum Profile Saddle Box for full size trucks. Your valuables are weather-protected by the rubber weather seal and fully welded aluminium construction. Inside and out, it has a black powder coating to prevent oxidation. Break-ins are thwarted by the simple, lockable push buttons and fully welded loop strikers. A sliding plastic tray that you may use to organise and access your tiny tools and hardware is included with the box. The no-drill mounting kit is also included, making it simple to secure the truck box to the truck bed.

A NEW MATTE BLACK

By using our new powder coating technology, an astonishing matte black is introduced to our toolbox color options. In contrast, powder coating is a method that is primarily used to apply decorative and protective finishes to aluminium profiles. It involves electrostatically charging a powder made of a mixture of finely milled resin and pigment, spraying it on the aluminium extrusion, and then curing it to form a smooth coating.

Better colour consistency between batches is a benefit of powder coating. Powder coatings don't pollute the air and provide great chemical resistance to mortar as well as to powerful acidic and alkaline cleaners.
